

COPYRIGHTS AND LICENSE TO PUBLISH

For any inquiries regarding the two page extended abstract please contact:

Please read carefully the terms of this agreement, print it, fill in the blanks (CAPITAL LETTERS), sign at the bottom of the page, scan it, and upload the signed file with your extended two page abstract, through registration panel (www.73wfc.com/registration). This document is required for abstract submission.

Title of the two page extended abstract:

.....

Author(s)

.....

Corresponding author (name and e-mail address)

.....

1. License to publish

Without prejudice to the foregoing, the corresponding author hereby grants the Polish Foundrymen's Association (Stowarzyszenie Techniczne Odlewników Polskich, ul. Dukatów 8, 31-431, Kraków, Poland) – referred to as Publisher, the license to publish the two page extended abstract as part of 73 World Foundry Congress Proceedings, along with rights for commercial use of the two page extended abstract according to sections below, throughout the world, in any form, in any language, for the full term of copyright, effective from the date of acceptance for publication, for indeterminate time.

2. Author's Warranties

The author warrants that the extended two page abstract is original, written by stated author/s, has not been published before in a written form, contains no unlawful statements, does not infringe the rights of others, is subject to copyright (section 3) that is vested exclusively in the author and free of any third party rights, and that any necessary written permissions to quote from other sources have been obtained by the author/s.

3. Rights of Authors

Authors retain the following rights:

- copyright, and other proprietary rights relating to the two page extended abstract,
- the right to use the substance of the two page extended abstract in future own works, including lectures and books, right to publish the full version of the article, which is based on the two page extended abstract in Journals suggested by the Organizers (Archives of Metallurgy and Materials, Archives of Foundry Engineering, Foundry Trade Journal, Journal of Materials Engineering and Performance, Journal of Casting & Materials Engineering) along with relevant references („This article is an invited submission to 'Name of the proposed Journal' selected from presentations at the 73rd World Foundry Congress organized by the Polish Foundrymen's Association on September 23-27, 2018 in Krakow, Poland, and has been expanded from the original presentation”), published as full texts as post-Congress works,
- the right to reproduce the extended two page abstract for own purposes, provided the copies are not offered for sale,
- the right to reproduce the two page extended abstract in a language other than English,
- the right to self-archive the extended two page abstract.

4. Co-Authorship

If the extended two page abstract was prepared jointly with other authors, the signatory of this form warrants that he/she has been authorized by all co-authors to sign this agreement on their behalf, and agrees to inform his/her co-authors of the terms of this agreement.

5. Termination

This agreement can be terminated by the author or the Publisher upon two months' notice where the other party has substantially breached this agreement and failed to remedy such breach within a month of being given the terminating party's notice requesting such breach to be remedied. No breach or violation of this agreement will cause this agreement or any license granted in it to terminate automatically or affect the definition of the Publisher. After forty (40) years from the date of signing this agreement, the contract may be terminated without cause by the author or publisher two years in advance. This agreement or any license granted in it cannot be terminated otherwise than in accordance with this section 5.

6. Royalties

This agreement entitles the author to no royalties or other fees. To such extent as legally permissible, the author waives his or her right to collect royalties relative to the extended two page abstract in respect of any use of the extended two page abstract by the Publisher or its sublicensee.

7. Miscellaneous

The Publisher will publish the extended two page abstract (or have it published) in the Materials from the 73rd World Foundry Congress, if the extended two page abstract's editorial process is successfully completed and the Author of the extended two page abstract accepted by the Scientific Committee pays the appropriate Congress fee. The Author has to prepare the abstract according to the template provided by the Publisher. The Publisher may adjust the extended two page abstract to a style of punctuation, spelling, capitalization and usage that it deems appropriate. The author acknowledges that the extended two page abstract may be published so that it will be publicly accessible for the readers in place and time chosen by them, and such access will be free of charge. The Publisher will be allowed to sublicense the rights that are licensed to it under this agreement. This agreement will be governed by the laws of Poland.

8. Scope of the Commercial License

The rights and license granted under this agreement to the Publisher for commercial use are as follows:

- a. to publish, distribute, exhibit, advertise, promote, license and sublicense printed and electronic copies of the two page extended abstract, via the Internet and other means of data transmission now known or later to be developed; the foregoing will include bibliographic information, illustrations, pictures, indexes and subject headings and other proprietary materials contained in the two page extended abstract,
- b. to exercise the right to license, and sub-license others to exercise subsidiary and other rights in the two page extended abstract, including the right to photocopy, scan or reproduce copies thereof, to reproduce excerpts from the two page extended abstract in other works, and to reproduce copies of the two page extended abstract as part of compilations with other works, including collections of materials made for use in classes for instructional purposes, customized works, electronic databases, document delivery, and other information services, and publish, distribute, exhibit and will be licensed the same.

The Publisher will be entitled to enforce in respect of third parties, to such extent as permitted by law, the rights licensed to it under this agreement.

Where the extended two-page abstract was written in connection with employment by the US Government or the UK and / or was supported by NIH funds, please consult the Journals Owner for further proceedings.

Author's Signature and date:

.....

Name in print:

.....